

Awakening Celestial Nature

Awakening Celestial Nature

Awakening to our Celestial Nature

This course is for anyone that feels that there is more to life than what they are getting. There are certain rules in this Universe that we must follow so that we can “Awaken” to the truth that each one of us has unlimited resources and possibilities to direct and control our life to be exactly what we would like it to be. So for the next few days study these lessons with a completely open mind and follow the instructions and you shall see just how easy it is to understand and use the “Supreme Principles Of Being” to bring peace, happiness, and success into your life.

Terms to Know

Infinite Consciousness

All Wisdom, All Power, All Love, All Truth and All Energy that makes up All of Existence; which expresses itself through Energy Transference within the Collective Consciousness.

Celestial Light Being

A Being that has Awakened to the Truth of their Life as the Light of Infinite Consciousness; yealding Wisdom, Power and Truth to assist All Beings to Awaken to their Celestial Nature. Celestial Light Beings utilize the neutral and positive energies of the Supreme Principles of Being to create and direct their life and their environments.

Supreme Principles of Being

Is an Intelligent Energy System within Infinite Consciousness which allows Energy Transference to take place through out All of Existence. Every Being in Existence uses these Principles with every conscious or unconscious Thought, Feeling, Word and Deed that they express.

This Energy System is made of neutral Energy which transforms into positive and negative Energy that Creates All Manifestations, Circumstances, Experiences and Environments. When a Being uses any form of Energy Transference they activate the Supreme Principals of Being; it makes no difference whether the Energy Transference is neutral, positive or negative those Energies will be Manifested and expressed according to its nature.

Energy Transference

Is an act of moving energy.
A being uses Energy Transference to express their existence. The mediums of Energy Transference that a Being use are: Thoughts, Feelings (Emotions), Words or sounds, Internal Body functions and External Body movements (Deeds).

Thought Energy Transference

If a thought forms in mind consciously or unconsciously, energy is moved, which activates the Supreme Principles of Being. The nature of the thought determines the manifestation created.

Emotional Energy Transference

When a Being feels any emotions well up inside of themselves, energy is moved, which activates the Supreme Principles of Being.

Sound Energy Transference

When a Being communicates verbally with words or sounds, energy is moved, which activates the Supreme Principles of Being.

Physical Energy Transference

All of a Beings Internal Body functions and All External Body movements causes energy to move, which activates the Supreme Principles of Being.

Positive Energy Transference

When a Being uses Creative and Positive Thoughts, Feelings, Words and Deeds to express their Life in a Selfless and beneficial way; which serves All Beings, they activate the Supreme Principles of Being. The quality of the thought feeling, word or deed determines the manifestation created.

Negative Energy Transference

When a Being uses destructive and negative Thoughts, Feelings, Words and Deeds to express their existence in a self serving and harmful way to themselves and others, they activate the negative qualities of the Supreme Principles of Being. The Intensity of the negativity thought, felt, spoken or done to one self or another being will determine the power of retribution that one must suffer.

Dark Substance

Is an negative substance that is manifested by negative Thinking, Feeling, Speaking and Doing. Dark substance attaches itself to the Being that expresses negativity in any form.

Once Dark substance is created and attached to the being, they must suffer pain, tribulations, sickness, delays, negative circumstances and negative environments to the degree and intensity equal to the density of the dark substance that was manifested from that being.

Dark substance exist only in the lower levels of existence. Once a being rises above the lower levels of existence by eliminating All Attachments, Desires and Sentimentality they will find that dark substance does not exist.

Passive Observation

Is an ability of a higher level Being to remain in a neutral state of mind and emotion when any positive or negative Thought, Feeling, Word, or Deed is expressed within himself or toward him by another Being.

Internal Knowingness

Is the embedded Truth at the core of ones internal being that is unshakable. This Truth at the internal center, has unlimited power to create for it is the Light essence of that being.

Exercise: Study all of these terms until you feel that you understand them for they are a very important part of the Awakening process.

Thought Rectification Keys

We have to guard all of our thoughts at all times .We need to make sure that all of our thoughts are constructive and positive. if we have negative thoughts arise we must replace them with an opposite positive thought. An example of this is; thoughts of anger must be replaced with thoughts of calmness; thoughts of hate would be replaced with thoughts of love.

It is very important to guard our thoughts all of the time because every thought that we have makes us what we are, they bring us the things that we need, and creates our environment that we live in.

We must also use internal knowingness to understand that we are the Light, Energy, Truth, and Wisdom of Infinite Consciousness with an unwavering knowing within.

We must keep all of our thoughts pure and creative.

We must keep all thoughts tranquil (through meditation).

We must passively observe all of our thoughts whether they are positive, negative or neutral.

We must always keep our thoughts focused on the service of all beings in the Universe. Some examples of the beings that we serve are: Air, Water, People, Trees, Plants, Animals, Insects etc.

We must never allow our thought content to be that of a wanting or self serving nature.

All of our thoughts must be of gratefulness for all beings, environments, circumstances, or things that we experience or come into contact with in our life.

We enhance our connection with Universal Consciousness when we focus on the positive qualities of all beings, environments, circumstances and things that we come into contact with.

When destructive or negative thoughts arise we must passively observe them without judging them as being good or bad. We must never mentally beat ourselves up for having destructive or negative thoughts.

Some examples of the thoughts that-we must passively observe are: happiness, sadness, sickness, pain, fear etc.

Exercise: Study all of these “Thought Rectification Keys” and use them every day in every environment and circumstance within your life.

Emotional (Feelings) Rectification Keys

Our emotions or feelings are extremely important to empower our thoughts to bring forth mental and physical help to our bodies, our desired living environments, all of the tools, resources, and materials needed for us to live a long healthy and prosperous life.

We must also guard our emotions and feelings and make sure that they are always positive and creative.

Our thoughts are the cause and our feelings are the effect; so if our thoughts are all positive then all of our emotions and feelings will be positive.

We must always have strong feelings deep within our core being that we are the Light, Energy, Truth and Wisdom of Infinite Consciousness.

Our feelings toward all beings must be that of Unconditional Love.

All of our feelings must be Creative, Pure and Peaceful.

When destructive or negative feelings arise we must replace them with creative and positive ones. Some examples of these are: fear to courage, hate to love, sadness to happiness etc.

Our feelings must be uplifting and kind toward ourselves, all other beings and in all circumstances and environments.

Our feelings must always be compassionate and helpful toward all beings and never self-serving.

When our feelings are creative and positive we are connected to Universal Consciousness and we Awaken the unlimited possibilities within us.

When we have strong feelings of Internal Knowingness of our Celestial Nature it empowers us to create and manifest our circumstances environments and our reality.

Exercise: Study all of these “Feeling Rectification Keys” and use them every day in every environment and circumstance.. It is very important to understand and apply them every day from now on; So that you can activate the creative force to design and manifest your perfect life.

Words Spoken or Written

Rectification Keys

We have covered ways to transform our thoughts and feelings to be positive so our lives will be constructive, happy and prosperous. When we guard our thoughts and feelings we empower ourselves with powerful tools to direct our lives in ways that will be the most beneficial to our well being and the wellness of all beings around us.

When we keep our thoughts and feelings in a creative and positive state our words spoken and written will all be positive.

Every word that we speak or write must express our Celestial Light Nature, that is One with all Beings, Environments, Circumstances and Things in Creation.

Some examples of these are: We are whole, We are perfect, We are powerful,
We are strong, We are loving, We are harmonious and We are happy.

All communication from us
must be Creative, Compassionate and possessing Unconditional Love.

Our words expressed must never be destructive or negative towards Ourselves or any other Being in Existence.

All words that we express that are positive create good, negative words cause illusion, destruction, and generate dark substance.

All of the words that we express must be uplifting and in the service of all beings.

Destructive negative words spoken or written, create illusions and distortions in the Universe.

Creative, positive words spoken or written assist us in the Awakening of the Beings of this world.

Exercise: Study all of these “Words Spoken or Written Rectification Keys” and use them every day in every environment and circumstance.. It is very important to understand and apply them from now on; So that you can activate the creative force to design and manifest your perfect life.

Deed Rectification Keys

When we always keep our thoughts, feelings, words, creative and positive and we continue to maintain this every day our lives are more pleasurable, happy, healthy and prosperous; but there is another area that we must up-hold so that we can transform our lives completely and that is our deeds.

We must be servants of Infinite Consciousness and all other beings.

When we perfect ourselves to think, feel, speak, write and do only creative and positive things we become heirs to all things of the Universe.

We will see that everything works for us and not against us, we become powerful and prosperous in everything that we do.

Everything that we experience through our five-senses must reflect our Celestial Light Nature.

All of our deeds must be creative and in service of all beings of Infinite Consciousness.

All deeds that we perform must be through a heart of Unconditional Love.

All deeds that we perform
must be beneficial to all and completely self-less.

Negative deeds hurt many beings and brings forth dark substance to us that we must suffer.

We teach the beings of this world how to live through our creative and positive deeds.

If we perform a negative or destructive deed we must make it right before we can move forward on our path.

Exercise: Study all of these “Deed Rectification Keys” and use them every day in every environment and circumstance.. It is very important to understand and apply them from now on; So that you can activate the creative force to design and manifest your perfect life.

Desires and Attachments Rectification Keys

The elimination of desires, attachments and sentimentality is very important, because it assists us in eliminating the illusion of ego-mind and carnal body and allows us to Awaken to our Celestial Light Nature.

Materialistic Desires Rectification Key

The Elimination of materialistic desires. What does this really mean?

Well, we can no longer

allow ourselves to desire
one person, environment, circumstance or thing over another; but instead replacing our desires of these things with Unconditional Love which is beneficial to all of creation.

We must focus on the service of all beings and keep our thoughts free of carnal lust and desire for the material.

We must rid ourselves of serving the self; to a mindset of serving all other beings of the Universe.

We must release ourselves of desiring materialistic things like money, houses, cars, electronics, food, etc; also we must rid ourselves of desiring one experience over another.

When we have eliminated desire out of our being we will find that all of the people, things and experiences that we need will be there when we really need them to fulfill our life purpose. We are just eliminating the desire for materialistic things. We do not have to give up the things that we have or stop using or buying them we just have to be at a point that if we loose them in some way it does not disturb us mentally or emotionally.

Materialistic Attachments Rectification Key

The Elimination of materialistic attachments; this means anything that we feel that we own, possess, control or cannot let go of. Some examples of this are: jewelry, money, collectibles, gifts from loved ones, clothes, electronics, people, ideas, habits, feelings, and experience's, etc. The list can be endless.

We can be attached to things whether they are good or bad. We must realize that we can never really possess anything.

All things in the Universe are there for all to use. All things are energy changing forms. If we find ourselves attached to something and protecting or hiding it, we are cutting ourselves off from the Universal flow of Abundance.

The more that we try to hold onto something the quicker it will be taken from us.

When we allow ourselves to have a mindset that all is Universal Energy changing form and that all things are there for all beings to use and enjoy; we become one with Universal Supply.

Exercise: Study all of these “Desires and Attachments Rectification Keys” and use them every day in every environment and circumstance.. It is very important to understand and apply them from now on; So that you can activate the creative force to design and manifest your perfect life.

Materialistic Sentimentality Rectification Key

The Elimination of materialistic sentimentality. What is materialistic sentimentality? It is a very low level carnal state of mind that is expressed through negative and positive egotistical emotions. These emotions are very controlling, and if they are continuously expressed we will find ourselves cut off from Universal Abundance and supply.

Some examples of negative egotistical emotions are: having sentimental feelings for someone, having a belief of sickness, physical distress, and emotional distress, tribulations or hardships of any kind; whether it is yourself, our family, a stranger, a friend, an associate, an animal or any other being.

Some examples of positive egotistical emotions are: having feelings of physical love, honor and respect for any being in a low level illusional way.

Now that we have the basic understanding of negative or positive egotistical emotions, we will address what we should replace those emotions with; when we find ourselves feeling emotional about any being suffering illness, physical or emotional distress, or hardships we must change our feelings in a way that makes us observe the situation as a passive observer.

What is a passive observer? It is the ability to observe a situation without being emotional about it. When we are able to be a passive observer with all situations we not only help the being with their illusional problem, but we keep ourselves from being caught up in that illusional negativity.

A question might arise like; how can we help a being that is suffering when we are just passively observing? Well there are specific Supreme Principles of Being that govern all circumstances and things; these Principles help each being to purify their internal nature by the elimination of dark substance. When a being is caught up in an illusion of suffering they eliminate a little bit of that illusional dark substance.

When we get emotional around a being that is suffering or when we try to eliminate their suffering we are working against Supreme Principles of Being; which only postpones the beings suffering to a later date; also when we do this we obtain that illusional dark substance ourselves.

When we become passive observers we align ourselves with Supreme Principles of Being and we replace negative egotistical emotions with powerful energy frequencies of

Divine Compassion; which brings forth health, harmony and peace.

We must also replace positive egotistical emotions like; honor, respect, and physical love
by being a passive observer; using Divine compassion and expressing Unconditional Love, Divine
honor, and Divine respect for all life and beings in the Universe.

How can we express
Unconditional Love, Divine
Honor, and Divine Respect for all life and all Beings in the Universe?

There are many beings in the the Universe that express a negative and illusional state of their being, when they think, feel, speak or do things negatively. Any time a being expresses negative thoughts, feelings, words or deeds they are not expressing their Celestial Light Nature but are playing a role to satisfy a self-serving and false illusion of who and what they are.

This can seem to be very deceiving and hurtful to all of us that do not understand the fact of,
who or what all beings are made of. So when we cross paths with these self-serving negative beings we have to see them for what they truly are instead of the false illusion that they believe themselves to be.

All beings are made of a High Energy Matter with a specific frequency that determines its size, shape and structure. This High Energy Matter is very intelligent because it is a representation of Universal Substance and Consciousness.

When a being Awakens to their Celestial Light Nature they will no longer try to uphold a self-serving, false illusion of themselves and they will not think, feel, speak or do negative things anymore.

When we Awaken to our Celestial Light Nature it is easy for us to express Unconditional Love, Divine
Honor and Divine Respect for life and all Beings in the Universe.

We understand that anything that seems to be negative is just an illusion.
As we continue to send out Unconditional Love, Divine Honor and divine Respect to all Beings we are eliminating negativity and connecting with Universal Consciousness

and all things that we need will be given to us freely.

Here are a few examples of Unconditional Love: loving all people regardless of the way they look, think, feel, speak, write or do things.

Loving all animals in the world, loving all trees and plants, loving the air that we breathe, loving the food we eat, loving all the water on earth, and loving all beings big or small throughout the Universe.

Here are a few examples of Divine Honor and Divine Respect for all beings: we Honor and Respect the air we breathe when we acknowledge its being and we express our gratitude for its life giving abilities.

We Honor and Respect the plants when we observe their beauty and acknowledge their intelligence, and realize that we cannot exist here without them. We Honor and Respect the Water when we give thanks for its being and for our acknowledgment that it is the life blood for all life on this earth. We now have the tools of our Celestial Nature, now we must go out into the world and use these tools and all things that we need will come to us effortlessly.

Exercise: Study all of these “Material Sentimentality Rectification Keys” and use them every day in every environment and circumstance.. It is very important to understand and apply them from now on;

So that you can activate the creative force to design and manifest your perfect life.

Transcending the Illusions and the Hardships of a Self-Serving Being

Service of a Celestial Light Being is: Serving every moment of every day selflessly. To serve selflessly, a being must never try to satisfy a personal desire or want. The service must be positive and good for the benefit of Infinite Consciousness, another being, or for the good of all beings.

Carnal service is: A being that serves themselves for personal gain, satisfying personal desires and attending to their wants.

Carnal service creates negativity from "The Supreme Principles Of Being," it distorts a beings perception of their circumstances and environments; it strengthens and upholds their illusional state of being and identity. When a being serves themselves they activate hardships, stress, tribulations, sicknesses and many other negative manifestations which can lead to death.

Service of a Celestial Light Being creates positive qualities from " The Supreme Principles Of Being," it activates positive energies of good that brings forth Love, Peace, Harmony, Power, and Truth; it gives a being all of the things that will enrich and empower them to live a life of happiness, abundance and prosperity
without many hardships and tribulations.

Exercise: To serve as a Celestial Light Being, we must ask our-selves these two questions with everything we think, feel, speak, or do.

1) Is this thought, feeling, word or deed that I am expressing at this moment positive and self-less?

2) Is this thought, feeling, word, or deed that I am expressing at this moment negative and self-serving?

We can use these two questions to guide our-selves with every Thought, Feeling, Word, or Deed that we express in our daily lives. If we always make sure that every thought that we have, every feeling we feel, every word that we speak and every deed we perform is positive and self-less, then we will be well on our way to a life of happiness, abundance and prosperity.

Supreme Principles of Being

All beings and all things are governed by Principles. There are many Principles in the outer Universe that are discovered by man, these are all natural Principles. There are also Principles that are hidden planes of existence that are more subtle and they rule the inner realms of existence and consciousness. The light nature of energy and substance are contained within these Principles.

The understanding of these Principles will bring forth powerful effects upon the mental and spiritual being. A being that understands the Supreme Principles of Being becomes a creator; and as he applies these Principles with full mindfulness of his oneness with all beings and with the wisdom that in love, all life is given and all things move, so in giving all, one attains all.

Listed in the next several pages are just some of the thousands of Supreme Principles of Being for you to study and understand.

The Principle of Abundance

Positive Expression: We have to come to the understanding that true success and abundance is obtaining full access to Infinite Universal Supply. When we create visualization of abundance in our life, we set the energy frequency of success into our reality. The art of attuning ourselves to the Supreme Principles of Being is done by rectifying our thoughts, feelings ,words and deeds; to bring into our life all of the things that we need.

When we think positive thoughts we align ourselves with positive opportunities and circumstances; which brings us to the things we need. When we have strong positive feelings we empower our creative thoughts and ideas to become reality. Our positive words guide the opportunities and the circumstances while they are manifesting. Our positive deeds are the steps and actions that we must take to secure the opportunities that solidify those manifestations.

Negative Expression :

Having attachments, desires and sentimentality in a physical and egotistical way. When we desire one person over another, express carnal lust, desire, when we serve ourself, when we desire materialistic things like money, houses, cars, electronics, etc; also we desire one experience over another, or have materialistic attachments; this means anything that we feel that we own, possess, control or cannot let go of. Some examples of this are: jewelry, money, collectables, gifts from loved ones, clothes, electronics, people, ideas, habits, feelings, and experience's, etc. When our lives are run by sentimentality, which is a low level carnal state of mind that is expressed through negative and positive egotistical emotions. These emotions are very controlling and if they are continuously expressed we will find ourselves cut off from Universal Abundance and Supply. If we have sentimental feelings for someone, if we believe we are sick, or have physical distress, emotional distress, tribulations or hardships of any kind; whether it is dealing with our family, a stranger, a friend, an associate, an animal or any other being in the Universe.

The Principle of Action

Positive Expression: It is very important for us to understand, that whatever talents or special gifts we have they can only come to life by action. There are many concepts that we can claim to know like commitment, courage, and love, but we can only create knowingness when we act; as we live and do these things, they become understanding.

Every one of us is focal points of understanding and action, which brings forth conscious energy to accomplish any idea.

Negative Expression :

When ideas or opportunities comes to us and we do not move forward taking the necessary steps to fulfill the idea or opportunity or we procrastinate, are lazy or just do not do the work.

The Principle of Element Intelligence

Positive Expression: This Principle states that all elements that exist in any form are conscious and intelligent beings. In Nature, it is the energy vibrations of the plants that are important, not their chemical properties. The Plants have intelligence; they have a consciousness that is beneficial to the energetic healing of our mind, body and spirit. The plants are part of us they are our natural teachers. They know what we need to be healthy and complete.

These healing ways work for anyone that is caring, respectful, and who has reverence and love for the blessings of the healing power of the Plant beings. Crystals and stones heal through the transmission of energy vibrations. Crystals and stones absorb, focus, transmute and transmit electromagnetic energy; these energies are collected by the crystals and stones while they have lain within the earth's magnetic field for millennia. They are universal transceivers, stepping universal energy down from the spiritual level so that it can be absorbed and used by the physical body.

Water is an intelligent being which has memory and is able to absorb and retain all energy frequencies that it comes into contact with. It is intelligent liquid matter and it is the substance that represents the vitality and life of all physical beings.

Negative Expression :

When we observe all of the beings around us; whether they are people, animals, trees, plants, air, water, rocks, and all other beings as being less intelligent than us or look at them as resources for us to use.

The Principle of Ascension

Positive Expression: This Principle determines the vibrational energy frequency that a being is resonating. When a being Awakens from the illusion of the false self, it ascends to a higher plane of existence while they are still on the earth plane to become living examples and teachers to help others to Awaken to their true selves.

The Principle of Attraction

Positive Expression: This Principle governs all manifestations. In its fundamental state, this Principle describes the compelling forces that hold our solar system together. We can creatively build for ourselves a heavenly paradise with right thinking, feeling, speaking and doing. We can ascend to perfection by right choices, and good application of thought. We are the master of cause and effect. We can reveal our character, our condition, our environment, and shape

our destiny with constructive thought. We are the manifestation of love, power, and intelligence and the master of our own thoughts. We hold the keys to all situations. We can transform and rejuvenate our bodies and our environment at will. We are always the master of our lives. We must be always mindful to the things that we think, feel, say and do so that we can master the facts of our lives to guide our thoughts, feelings, words
and deeds to be positive.

When we practice the art of being mindful, we can learn to understand the Supreme Principles of Being and use them to our advantage. We can think the right thoughts and control cause and effect with pinpoint accuracy to experience life the way that it needs to be.

Negative Expression : If we Think, Feel, Speak, or Do negative things we shall attract to ourselves negative things that will be harmful to us and others.

The Principle of Balance

Positive Expression: This is the Principle of equalities. It creates stability for manifestations. It governs each thought with perfect balance. All messages that are communicated through love validate the principle of equality.

The Principle of Consciousness

Positive Expression: All consciousness continuously expands, and the space for events increases which allows man to be cognate of positive and negative.

Opportunities and possibilities enlarge and this reveals the great need for this present world cycle. The universe is in the process of creating continuously and endlessly. Universal consciousness is an infinite reality in which all beings, in all of creation are connected. When individual consciousness and universal consciousness fuse as one, this results in the development of Infinite Wisdom, of Omniscience (all science/all wisdom and knowledge).

We achieve a high state of consciousness when we realize our light nature and become Awakened to our oneness with the whole (Enlightenment).

The Principle of Cycles

Positive Expression: There is a large pattern of cycles, which include passing of the seasons, night and day. Inside this pattern of cycles exist the world of nature; each season does not push the next, and the clouds don't race the wind across the sky. Everything happens in its own time. All things rise and fall.

Anything that rises will fall, and whatever falls will rise again, this is the principle of cycles. We should get in touch with the energy of the seasons this is one way that we can begin to connect to the healing power of nature.

We can take a few moments to tune into the season that we are living in at that moment. We should focus on all aspects of the season that we are in and not just the weather.

We can regenerate, restore, come into balance with, and gain clarity in our life when we establish a conscious connection to the natural world. We should have a strong intention and allow ourselves to be supported by the natural world.

The Principle of Discipline

Positive Expression: When a being practices discipline they expand their abilities to a higher degree of any other action. With discipline a being will experience much greater freedom and independence. It establishes clear focus which allows the being to achieve greater knowledge and skills that provide more life options. Commitments and discipline is needed over a span of time. Discipline and commitment become a bridge to reach our goals.

Here are a few ways to free ourselves of Materialism. It is living a life that is stripped of the unnecessary things that would prevent us from being joyful all the time. It is a Removal of clutter in all of its many forms, leaving us with peace, freedom and lightness. Eliminating the mindset of more, of acquiring, consuming, and the burden of stuff.

Adopt the art and beauty of less; they are content in keeping and using what they need to make them truly happy.

Acquiring stuff does not make them happy. That earning more money and having more things are meaningless concepts. That filling their life with busy schedules is not desirable, but something to be avoided.

Focus on values like quality, not quantity, in all of its forms.

To live a minimalistic life style we must figure out what makes us happy.

We must get rid of all of the unnecessary, so we can have room for all of the important things. To have a minimalistic life style is not a life of nothing, of boringness. It's a life full of richness, in less. Every person's minimalistic life will be different. All we have to do is figure out what makes us the happiest. We must plan our ideal day. Then we must strip our life of the non-essentials, keeping only those things which are needed to make room for our ideal day, using the things that we like and being with the people we love.

Negative Expression :

When we are lazy, non-productive, if we procrastinate, If we do not do work, if we do not move forward on our path.

The Principle of Supreme Flow

Positive Expression:

Supreme flow is a Principle that helps us center ourselves in Unconditional Love and allows us to always be in the service of others while we are living in the present moment.

This Principle allows us to say and do the right things at the right times that is best for all.

Negative Expression :

When we do not not serve the beings around us at all times. When we are not being a passive observer for all of the people and circumstance that take place in our life.

The Principle of Supreme Love and Oneness

Positive Expression: This Principle pertains to the ability for a being to increase its energy vibration speed to merge with Infinite Consciousness which allows the being to be an extinction of the Supreme to aid mankind in awakening to their light

Nature and will give them the ability to live in the liquid light.

The Principle of Identity

Positive Expression: This Principle is the process of distribution of energy and the atomic arrangements of that energy by vibratory rhythm to give it a distinguishing and unique structure unlike other forms of energy and their properties.

Negative Expression : By denying a being of the right to their own identity and spiritual path or forcing your beliefs on others.

The Principle of Economy of Force

Positive Expression: This Principle deals with the aspect of activity with the least expenditure of force to adjust all things that concerns the spiritual and material evolution of the universe to its best possible advantage. This Principle creates, adjusts and equalizes the physical atoms with the perfect vibratory energy rate and rhythm that carries all onward, upward, and through with the least possible effort.

The Principle of Equalities

Positive Expression: This is also known as the principle of correspondence. Love and Wisdom are the major linking agent of the Universe. Love and Wisdom are used through the use of analogy which helps lead a mind to their light nature of oneness (enlightenment). All of the thoughts and images that are held in the conscious or subconscious mind will manifest their likeness in our external circumstances. Our inner world creates our outer world.

There is a certain correspondence between the Principles and the different phenomena of the many planes of existence and life. This principal enables discernment and intuition to come forth, and allows which is unknowable to become known to a being who understands and uses this principle. There are some beings that use it consciously while others are not aware of it being used. A being that uses this Principle knowingly can enhance their clarity of vision and enables them to tap into the secrets of secrets; when correspondence is used it establishes the under connectedness between all things in the universe, this is a substance in a medium which is non-material for the transmission of light, electricity, heat and gravity. It is universal substance. Within this substance all galaxies, worlds and suns are suspended in space and change.

The Principle of Expansion

Positive Expression: This is the Principle that controls the expansion of consciousness which indwells in all forms of being. All existence in nature dwells within a sphere. This sphere uses rotary and spiral-cyclic forces to produce its own internal activity. This Principle regulates relativity which is the relation between atoms that create light this light produces a composite sphere which we call a solar system.

The Principle of Expectation

Positive Expression: First there is thought then follows energy. We must always move forward toward those things that we imagine. All of the things that we assume, expect or believe create our opportunities and experiences. When we change our thoughts and expectations we dynamically change our opportunities and experiences across all facets of our life.

Negative Expression :

When we think that something is negative it will be. When we expect to have negative things happen to us they will.

The Principle of Internal Knowingness

Positive Expression: This Principle is founded on the recognition that we believe or know more than we have heard, read or studied. Our knowledge and wisdom is more extensive because we are one with all.

We are directly linked to Universal Wisdom, when we look within and listen, discern and trust in that wisdom. When we have any decisions to make we must trust our internal knowingness in providing us with the answers.

Negative Expression :

When we do not move forward with creative and positive thoughts, feelings, words and deeds through Internal Knowingness.

The Principle of Flexibility

Positive Expression: This Principle involves a realistic acceptance of the present moment. We should always accept ourselves, all other beings and our current circumstances within the present moment, instead of resisting it. We have to be alert and in an expansive state of universal awareness while we are embracing and constructively using the present moment.

The stumbling blocks that we experience become our stepping stones and all of our problems become opportunities for our success. All things are there for our highest good if we understand and utilize them.

Negative Expression :

When we live in the past or the future with our thoughts or feelings or if we feel that something negative that happens to us in our life is unfair.

The Principle of Forgiveness

Positive Expression: This is the Principle that governs the energy of allowing things to be as they are and for the revelation that all is Unconditional Love. When we realize that all is Unconditional Love it eliminates the unnatural feelings of revenge. When we forgive we allow the Principle of grace to rid ourselves of dark substance that we have accumulated from thinking, feeling, speaking and doing negative things.

Passiveness and non-violence are natural qualities for a being to express from the understanding and application of the Principle of forgiveness. When we forgive any being of their wrong doing we strengthen the Universe.

Negative Expression : Our energy vibration is very low when we use the feelings of anger, hate, or revenge. When we do not forgive those who think, feel, say or do negative things to hurt us or cause us problems.

The Principle of Free will Positive Expression: This Principle gives all beings the creative and expressive principal of choice to use positive or negative energies to express themselves in the universe. It becomes our ultimate decision to do good or bad. Whatever circumstances we find ourselves in we are given the power to choose the direction that we shall take. We can be influenced by others or an example for others it is our choice. Every choice that we have ever made has brought us to the place we are in at this very moment.

Our thoughts are energy and the mind is the builder. The ultimate goal of our light nature is to willingly surrender the carnal mind so that we can ascend to our highest potential as a Celestial Light Being; so that we will not have a need for material manifestations of any kind.

Negative Expression :

When we force any being to do something they do not want to do.

The Principle of Grace

Positive Expression: This Principle allows a being to receive more than what it deserves or works for as long as it is in the highest good of all. When a being understands and calls upon this Principle it allows them to send a healing to another without suffering the consequences of dark substance retribution. When a being continuously lives in grace their energy vibration is at a higher rate.

If a being is always doing good for the world then this Principle will protect them from negative things taking place in their life.

Negative Expression :

When we are selfish and not giving to all beings.

The Principle of Healing

Positive Expression: This Principle gives a being the ability to direct energy from Infinite Consciousness to improve self or another being by removing the source of the problem, pain or sickness.

Negative Expression :

When we do not express the Internal Knowingness that every being is already in the light of perfect health.

The Principle of Higher Will

Positive Expression: When a low level being is viewing this from a carnal mindset with a small will they think that acting on their own desires and preferences are right. When a being surrenders the carnal mindset and a self-serving will they are guided by a universal will.

By this guidance, the being through dedication and actions that are in line with the highest good of all will obtain an inspired glow at the center of their life that will shine for unlimited possibilities.

The Principle of Honesty

Positive Expression: When a being recognizes, accepts and expresses' their light nature of being they are at the heart of Truth. If we are not honest with ourselves we will not be able to speak or act honestly with anyone else. With a sense of integrity we must be honest with higher Principles regardless of the negative impulses present within us and our environments.

Negative Expression : The act of being dishonest is in its self-punishment because it sets into motion a subtle force which has natural consequences that will occur and we cannot escape them anymore than we could ever escape the force of gravity. If we let fear prevent us from expressing our true feelings and needs we are being dishonest with ourselves and it costs us energy and light.

The Principle of Identity

Positive Expression: This Principle gives all beings the right to create their own being.

The Principle of Intention

Positive Expression: When a beings attention is held in mind and their action in their physical effort does not follow; it creates a false impression of themselves. One thinks the self is good or better than their actions prove.

The Principle of intention demands that energy must follow intention for all which is perceived as good to take place. If an act of kindness is performed and the intention is such that one wishes to be recognized for goodness or has an underling motivation that is not of a higher order no rewards will come forth. The intention and effort must possess a higher energy vibration of good to create a spiritual accomplishment and reward.

Negative Expression : If someone gives a promise to another to do something and they have an intention to do so and they do not follow through with action this is considered a lie which is breaking of one's word and this creates dark substance for that being which must be suffered.

The Principle of Intuition

Positive Expression: A beings intuition is more accurate and powerful when they claim their sacred identity. When a being is in touch with their intuition and wisdom they will no longer depend on opinions of others for the sense of their identity or self-worth.

Negative Expression :

When we depend on opinions of others for the sense of our identity or self-worth.

The Principle of Dark Substance

Positive Expression: This Principle governs cause and effect. All causes have effects and every effect has its cause. All things work according to Principle. Chance is a word used by a carnally minded being. There are many planes of existence and there is no being within this universe that will escape this Principle. This Principle is very elusive and only proven to exist from the mind. This Principle is used to determine the causation's and effects of any event. When we use this Principle with conscious effort desired results will be produced in a beings life by guiding them along a specific path of existence.

Negative Expression : If the Principle is use in a negative way it becomes potentially disastrous for the individual or group of individuals. There are no accidents.

Every being is responsible for every thought, feeling, word or deed and if the Principles are not used and expressed in positive ways, dark substance will be incurred and the being will have to pay retribution for its transgressions.

The Principle of Knowledge

Positive Expression: This Principle moves energy. Knowledge directs the application of the Principles of Energy, the conservation of force, their qualities, types and vibrations.

Negative Expression :

When we live by ignorance we are not using the Principles in a beneficial way we can only expect unsatisfactory results in the things that we do.

The Principle of Love

Positive Expression: This is the Principle of the higher planes of existence; it is a very powerful force that makes all things happen.

Negative Expression :

When we have attachments, desires, and sentimentality we restricts the powerful flow of the Principle of love.

The Principle of Manifestation

Positive Expression: When a being uses powerful thoughts, feelings, and words in creative affirmative ways; with pure Internal knowingness that the need is reality, it becomes manifest, when it is in the best interest of the higher self. The art of attuning ourselves to the universal energies by way of rectifying our thoughts, feelings, words and deeds we bring forth into our life all of the things that we need. When we think positive thoughts we align ourselves with positive opportunities and circumstances; which brings us to the things we need. When we have strong positive feelings we empower our creative thoughts and ideas to become reality. Our positive words guide the opportunities and the circumstances while they are manifesting. Our positive deeds are the steps and actions that we must take to secure the opportunities that solidify those manifestations.

Negative Expression :

When a being uses negative thoughts, feelings, and words and deeds in expressing their life, they restrict themselves from positive manifestations.

The Principle of Meditation

Positive Expression: This Principle is a current of unified thought. It is a process of mental effort which assimilates an object of meditation free of all other effort to assimilate other objects. Meditation in its least form calms the self. When a being meditates on infinite Consciousness, it brings forth a merging of the two; and this is called Enlightenment.

Negative Expression :

When we do not set aside time during each day to go within ourselves we will find it difficult or imposible to understand and express Light nature.

The Principle of No Judgments

Positive Expression: Infinite Consciousness does not judge us. All judgments are created by carnal mind of low level beings. The carnal mind uses judgment to compare, contrast and control as it judges it's self with artificial and very idealistic standards of perfection, morality or truth. When a negative being makes any judgments on others they attract judgment to themselves in a over expanded measure.

Negative Expression :

When we judge other beings in negative ways we are executing judgment upon ourselves.

The Principle of No-Attachments

Positive Expression:

Attachments to the carnal self-create dark substance. Practicing No-attachments to the carnal self dissolves and transforms dark substance into light substance. When a being does not have attachments to the carnal self they come to the realization that their ultimate nature of self is inexhaustible. A being does not exist as a separate entity.

A being must come to a complete understanding of this to utilize inexhaustible possibilities of the true self and the universe. There are many methods to help beings attain this realization, there are two main categories. The first is 'no-attachments' and the other is 'cultivation practice.'

By diligent application of these two methods, a being can free themselves from the confines of a negative existence.

Negative Expression :

When we desire materialistic things like money, houses, cars, electronics, etc; also when we desire one experience over another. What are materialistic attachments; this is anything that we feel that we own, possess, control or cannot let go of. Some examples of this are: jewelry, money, collectables, gifts from loved ones, clothes, electronics, people, ideas, habits, feelings, and experience's, etc.

The Principle of Non-Intervention

Positive Expression: This Principle gives a being or group of beings the rights and proper situations to restrain themselves from servicing others when it is in the best interest for all who are concerned. This Principle prevents beings from intervening or attempting to correct what they percieve as wrong or harmful.

Negative Expression :

When we do not passively observe the circumstances and the things that take place in our lives. When we use this Principle in negative ways, there is great black substance incurred. There is another aspect of this Principle, which restrains spirit or enlightened beings from channeling resources, materials or knowledge to a being that would force a change in the evolution of that being which is found not worthy or ready for that change. The Light being that uses Universal energies to help others that are not found worthy of that help shall be lowered in stature and suffer great retribution for their miss use of those energies and abilities.

The Principle of One

Positive Expression: Infinite Consciousness is ONE. All that is, is Infinite Consciousness – all beings,
of the universe and all activities in the universe which includes the earth.
All moves and has its being in Infinite Consciousness.
Life itself is Infinite Consciousness, the awareness of that Oneness of that Universal Consciousness allows all beings to know their true state of being.

The Principle of Order of Creation

Positive Expression: All of the Supreme Principles of being have been established to carry all beings forward continuously in perfect harmony. Anything that comes forth or begins is conceived in spirit, it grows in the mental and manifests in the material. This is the means and source or manner by which the powers and directing forces are known and experienced by all beings.

Ignorance of the Principles and self-serving nature of certain beings eventually turned this into a channel for destructive forces which have caused so much unnecessary tribulations and suffering. While these beings continued to develop in this direction for many centuries, there are many that are awaking to the truth and they are leaning toward the light which will bring forth unlimited possibilities for all.

The Principle of Patience

Positive Expression:

Patience involves spiritual, mental and physical thought and action. With patience, we learn to know our Light Nature, so that we can measure and test our ideas; it helps us use Internal Knowingness and to seek understanding through all the other virtues we possess. When we use Patience we enable all other virtues to manifest in more profound ways. When we allow ourselves to be patient we realize that any faults we see in others is one that we have personally experienced in our own lives and have gained insight and knowledge from them. When we are patient we are seeking true understanding and not just knowledge; also we come to a realization that every being is totally unique and will come to its enlightenment in its own time.

Negative Expression :

When we are not patient with the circumstance, environments or beings in our life.

The Principle of Patterns

Positive Expression: This Principle of habit or pattern tends to reassert itself over time unless we break that pattern by doing something different, whether we call it good or bad, if this habit or pattern is good, we can reinforce the pattern. We all have the power of spontaneous action, which is doing old things in new ways, changing and restructuring our Thoughts, behavior and lives. Sometimes our ability for change is dictated by the ways we learned when we were young.

We have learned to make sense of this world by observing patterns, and this has survival value. If we see patterns that are dysfunctional, negative or destructive we can correct them by doing something different which will have sufficient impact to interrupt the old pattern and change it to a positive one.

Negative Expression : If we do things in the same way that we have always done them even though they have proven time and time again to bring to us negative results we shall suffer them.

The Principle of Perfection

Positive Expression: This Principle controls absolute perfection of universal existence and process of every beings life. When perfection is observed from a transcendental perspective, everyone and everything is unconditionally perfect. When perfection is observed from a conventional viewpoint, perfection does not exist; excellence is the best that any being can achieve, and achieving takes time and practice. When a being becomes enlightened to the truth, they understand their role and responsibility in serving all beings within the universe. They become more loving, giving, kinder and gentler. When a being lives up to this responsibility, they expand into the perfection of their Celestial Light Nature.

The Principle of Polarity

Positive Expression: All things have a dual nature and opposite poles. Like and unlike are the same. Opposites are different in degree but are identical in nature. Every paradox can be reconciled.

We can prove this principle with observing the polarity of planets and the celestial bodies that includes our earth, solar system, and galaxy. Everything has polarity. Light, gravity and electricity would not be possible without the Principle of polarity. In the mental plane, this Principle manifests itself in the heart center of each being as enlightenment or dark evil minded. The Principle of Polarity establishes the possibilities of choices we make our life between good and evil, right and wrong, generosity and greed, love and fear, truth and lies. There is another Supreme Principles of Being that is closely connected to the Principle of polarity and that is cause and effect and holds us to the choices and actions we make by returning to us what we have given out to all others. Everything has this dual aspect of reality within itself. Everything has Positive and negative, light and darkness, Love and fear, mortality and Immortality.

The Principle of Internal Knowingness and Meditation

Positive Expression:

Internal Knowingness is the conscious effort of any being too commune with Infinite Consciousness of Life.

Internal Knowingness is used to align, clean and open up our inner-selves to the Source of all existence and life; it shows our need for enlightenment and guidance. Meditation is used to free and empty ourselves of obstacles dark substance that hinder communication and allow us to utilize the universal-Force in a spiritual, mental and physical way.

Meditation opens a direct link to Infinite

Consciousness, and attunes us to our Celestial Light Nature.

Negative Expression :

When we do not rectify ourselves of negative thinking, feeling, speaking and doing. We create obstacles and dark substance it hinders us in a spiritual, mental and physical ways and cuts us off from living happy and prosperous lives.

The Principle of the Present Moment

Positive Expression: In true reality time does not exist. Past and future, have no reality except in the minds of those who believe in them. The whole idea of time is an invention of wandering thoughts and language, on a social scale. The truth is that we have this moment only. If a being holds regret within an incident of the past they keep that regret alive with images and emotions they raise up. If a being feels anxiety about the future, they keep the anxiety alive with the images they imagine; so if we look at time we shall see it only as an abstract concept and not reality. We must know and practice that the here and now is all we have, when we do this our present moments improve greatly.

Negative Expression :

Living in the past or future.

The Principle of Process

Positive Expression: This Principle gives all beings the awareness that they have things to accomplish in their life.

When a being wishes to achieve a certain goal, they must set a direction, organize well and advance in small but sure steps. All achievement is easily managed in small increments. Any being who avoids a single step or tries to take a shortcut will results in failure.

For any being to adhere to this Principle they must always appreciate the accomplishment of a small step toward their goal.

Negative Expression : Not taking the necessary steps to our goals or Giving in to failier

The Principle of Responsibility

Positive Expression: It was the idea of Infinite Consciousness to allow our being to choose its own existence. It was our idea to separate ourselves from Infinite Consciousness into materiality. Infinite Consciousness is responsible for us through love and we are responsible to reclaim this divine love. We must take full charge of that which is our duty to serve all and let go of servicing ourselves only.

Negative Expression :

When we do not take responsibility in developing ourselves to our Light nature and serve all beings in existence with unconditional love.

The Principle of Rhythm

Positive Expression:

Everything in existence is in a constant flow, all things rise and fall. The principles of this Principle is most widely seen and felt on the Physical Plane, is the most visible of all principles and its power can be observed within the forces of nature like the waves and tides of the oceans and the continuous changes of the seasons. It is observed in the continuous cycles of life, death, and the rebirth of all things, with rise and fall of governments and nations. There are endless creations and destruction of suns, worlds, and galaxies. When this Principle is observed on the plane of energy the behavior of the sporadic currents and waves of electricity, light, and heat as they pulsate between the positive and negative extremes.

The Principle of rhythm on the mental plane is experienced as the fluctuating moods displayed in mortal nature; like extreme happiness, to extreme sadness, from a calm behavior to an extremely violent behavior in an instant. The Principle of rhythm compensates and sustains the balance in all things seen and not seen. It returns to every being what they give out in life. There is not any being that can escape from the effects of this indisputable Principle.

This Principle keeps all beings true to their beliefs, or dis-beliefs, and it gives every being what they deserve all the same.

Everything of nature follows this Principle. It is certain that all beings will fulfill the Principle one way or another.

All beings can use this Principle to their advantage, or they can become its subject. The ultimate result hinges on on what we have chosen to believe and if our belief system allows us to see the truth as it actually is.

There is not one single being in existence allowed to stand still. All of the endless manifestations are the effects of active energy constructing definite results, and disbursement of energy in any one direction will compel an equal outflow in the opposite direction.

Negative Expression : We are effected by this Principle in a negative way when we get lost in ego-mind and the material lie.

The Principle of Right Human Relations

Positive Expression: This Principle defines the limits of all beings to use behavioral control with others in this dimension. All beings have access to all knowledge of the universe within themselves. All teachers are in a manner a leader, the individual being may only be a means and not a way of life. Any strong actions will promote refusal and achieve rejection, and it can encourage a being to become dependent on another's will.

In our relationships we achieve greater results with others by our own fine example and also by listening. Beings can always answer their own questions if they are given enough opportunity to do so. The only real control any being ever really has and needs is their Internal Self.

Negative Expression : No being can undertake to forcibly teach, counsel or guide another being. When a being does not search within themselves for excellence they refuses the universal gifts already present which has not been recognized or realized.

The Principle of Sacrifice and Death

Positive Expression: This Principle is the controlling factor on the physical plane. The destruction of a beings form, so that the evolving life can progress forward, is one of the fundamental methods in spiritual evolution.

This basic Principle of all group endeavors is the governing principle that will result in each human eventually becoming a Savior; It is also the Principle of those beings who choose to die.

Negative Expression : If we believe in the lie of materialism then we shall die by it.

The Principle of Love and Light

Positive Expression: This Principle covers the affects and the expansions of consciousness that an initiate undergoes, and his ability to attract to himself through knowledge, the true self to produce alignment and illumination through his spiritual teachers that he seeks to know, so that he can utilize in his work of service, other beings with whom he can work. This Principle applies to the initiate who has transcended the stage of self-consciousness.

The Principle of Service

Positive Expression: The Principle service is a science that grows naturally out of the successful application of meditation, and it governs the Principle of the future.

A beings spiritual growth comes through the Principle of service through a cultivated self-forgetfulness. Service is the true science of creation and is the perfect method of establishing continuity. This work of service requires so much sacrifice of time and personal interest, requiring careful effort, conscious wisdom and the ability to work without attachments, desires and sentimentality.

Negative Expression :

When we allow our lives to be controlled by attachments, desires, and sentimentality.

If a being avoids this Principle consciously there will be black substance accumulation followed by tribulations and suffering.

The Principle of Sound

Positive Expression: Every living being in existence has a sound energy vibration. All new forms existence is developed through the medium of sound. The science of sound is linked to the release of energy in the atom. Healing with sound is very powerful. Sound has the power to return a being to their perfect form.

Negative Expression :

Negative thoughts, feeling, words and deeds affect sound energy frequencies and cause negative things to manifest.

The Principle of Spiritual Approach

Positive Expression: This Principle describes the conscious act of a being to create with its every thought, feeling, word and deed the ability to be the reflection of its true Celestial self. Every thought, feeling, word and action is our tools of our path of a Creator.

When a being successfully achieves this ability, that being becomes a mirror or reflection of Infinite Consciousness for other beings to learn from and emulate.

Our purpose is to Enlighten to our Celestial Light Nature.

The Principle of Spiritual Awakening

Positive Expression: A being has to possess the basic level of self-control and stability to maintain the degree of effort required for the Awakening of other states of awareness.

Spiritual Awakening brings with it the need for moral perfection.

Negative Expression :

Awakening brings with it higher forms of perception and power, self centered and misuse of that greater perception and power will result in a tremendous accumulation of black substance as a consequence.

The Principle of Surrender

Positive Expression: When a being cherishes the small self, surrendering becomes a very frightening experience. A being experiences the surrender as a leap into an abyss or as death. A being perceives the Principle this way because they have not attained a complete trust and Knowingness of Infinite Consciousness. Once the false self is abandoned, the being automatically merges with a higher state of existence. There is no chance for this process to fail to function.

At the moment of complete surrender, the entire being merges into a specific higher realm of manifestation within reality which is in relation to the point of its development.

Negative Expression :

When we do not surrender ourselves completely to Infinite Consciousness in every thought, feeling, word, and deed.

The Principle of Teaching

Positive Expression: This Principle lets all beings know that they have a responsibility to pass on the wisdom that they have learned, for the continuation of life.

Negative Expression : If we refuse to teach others the truth that we have ascended to.

The Principle of Thought Transfurence

Positive Expression: The
thoughts of a being can be, projected from the point between their eyebrows,
this is a broadcasting apparatus of thought.
When the beings feelings are calm and concentrated though purity, it acts as a mental radio, and it can send and receive messages to or from other beings within this universe.

Energy vibrations of thought in one being's mind are transmitted through the subtle vibrations of astral ether and then through the more dense earthly ether, creating energy waves which, in turn, translate themselves into thought waves in the mind of another being.

Negative Expression : If we use this ability harm or control other beings in negative ways.

The Principle of Time

Positive Expression: The only moment we have is now. In this moment we create. What we have done is done and that moment in history exists only as a record or energy trace. Our future only ever happens in and from the present tense and is built of the thoughts we have in this moment, empowered by our emotions and driven forward by our actions. It is very important to know that positive activity is the key for our successful future.

The Principle of Unconditional Love

Positive Expression: By loving ourselves and other beings as they are, is honoring the Light Nature and other beings and their life path. All beings must love all without judgment or reservation.

All beings must have awareness that we are all part of Infinite Consciousness. When a being loves without condition or restraint they make a connection with their Light Nature, at this point they will say the right things at the right time in their communication with others while they love unconditionally. All of elements of their Life and all events flow to them in a happy and delightful manner. All things are easier when we are living in Unconditional Love.

Negative Expression : If we do not love all beings in existence with Unconditional Love we are living a negative existence.

The Principle of Unity

Positive Expression:
Everything in all existence is connected; all is radiating the light of Divine nature. All beings start their existence this way and it is the way they develop into eternity. A being only feels a greater separation from the whole while they are in the third dimension of physical form, they experience the illusion that they stand alone because of the ignorance of the higher self.

Fear enters a beings emotional body because of this illusion which closes their connection to the universal Source. When a being experiences great spiritual growth, in some way, all beings benefit. All substance and power in this Universe; flows to us and through us. All beings in existence collectively make up and express Infinite Consciousness.

Negative Expression :

Secluding ourselves from the Unity of Universal Consciousness and isolating ourselves from all beings in existence.

The Principle of Vibration

Positive Expression: The Principle of vibration is the basis of all manifestations.
Nothing in this Universe is ever at rest; everything continuously moves and everything vibrates at its unique energy frequency.

This Principle is of progress, of movement and of rotation. This Principles defines the differences between all manifestations of matter, energy, mind and spirit. All beings in this Universe exist in its unique constant vibration, energy and motion.

Energy particles always vibrate with such great rapidity that they seem to be motionless to the physical eye. There are other things that vibrate so slowly that they seem to be non-existent. There are many living entities which range from consciousness all the way down to a small dust particle that plays an important role in the food chain. And there are many things even lower than dust. As we follow the scale of life all the way down to the extreme regions of the negative pole of undifferentiated matter, we find the realm of spirit. All that there is in existence, begins in spirit and ends in spirit completing a single cycle of evolution that is continuously repeated endlessly throughout eternity.
